PERSONALIZATION

This part of planning is all about adding those personal touches that speak to who you are as a couple. Just as every couple is unique, the details they add will be unique, and unfortunately there is no rule book or step by step leaflet that we can rely on here.

That said, we put together a list of interesting and creative ideas we have seen over the years that are sure to pull on the heartstrings. Careful not to go overboard, less is more in wedding world - and focus on the ones that are reflective of your love story.

- Create a picture slideshow or photo display of your life together
- Source wedding favors that are both unique and meaningful
- Personalize your cake topper with something cute
- Find a spot for your fur babies in the wedding ceremony
- Create a trivia game with fun facts guest may or may not know about you
- Find a more creative way to prompt a kiss than the old glass clink
- Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue
- Create a specialty hashtag for event photo uploads
- Picture guest books or video messaging - a lovely twist on a classic
- Flip out the guest book all together and have a wedding advice tree instead
- Are there any guests not in attendance that you want to honor?
- Music is a beautiful thing, are there any songs that are particularly meaningful?

Jot down your top picks plus any other details you want to include.

CHECKLISTS + HOMEWORK

CHAPTER SIX CHECKPOINTS

A quick one but an important one. Be sure to really take the time to reflect on who you are as a couple. What are the chapters in your love story that you want to share on this very special occasion.

- Decide on Your Personal Wedding Touches
- Order any Props, Materials or Specialty Decor Items
- Source Wedding Favors and Specialty Gifts

HOMEWORK + NEXT STEPS

Building our wedding day timeline is the next big task on the To Do List. We need a plan to keep not only your wedding party organized but also your guests + vendors and having a well thought out timeline is the best way to do this.

- Begin to think about all the activities that you want to include in your itinerary
- Transportation. How will you be getting to and fro come wedding day?
- How many wedding speeches are you thinking of having?
- Which traditions do you want to include at the reception celebration?
